Kate Brown de Vejar is an associate in the International Arbitration group of Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle, S.C. Her practice focuses on commercial and investor-State arbitration.

Ms. Brown de Vejar has served as counsel in arbitrations under the rules of the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID), the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL), the Mexican Chamber of Commerce (CANACO) and the Japan Commercial Arbitration Association (JCAA), and has acted as Secretary to the Tribunal under the International Rules of the American Arbitration Association (ICDR).

Ms. Brown de Vejar has advised both state and private clients in connection with high value international disputes across a wide range of sectors, including construction, financial services, oil and gas, transport and telecommunications, and under a variety of international treaty instruments, including the Energy Charter Treaty, the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and numerous bilateral investment treaties. She regularly provides advice on the drafting of dispute resolution clauses for international contracts.

Ms. Brown de Vejar is Assistant Editor of World Arbitration & Mediation Review, published by the Institute for Transnational Arbitration, and has lectured on international litigation and international alternative dispute resolution at the Tecnológico de Monterrey in Mexico City.

Recent publications include:
